Producer's planning estimate at 2026 rates. Allowances are unquoted planning inputs, not vendor quotes or a line producer-approved budget. Financing and tax-credit bridge fees excluded. Assumptions and facility schedule on page 2.

Credit model: 30% base NY credit on 85% of production and post plus 85% of director and cast wages, capped at 40% of other qualified costs. No producer, rights, casting, travel or ATL-fringe credit assumed. Conditional and received after production.

Assumptions and facility schedule

Planning input	Soundstage Production	Street & Soundstage	Full Bleecker
Principal photography	30 facility / 0 street	30 facility / 5 street	4 facility / 36 street
Rental prep / hold / strike	20 / 0 / 5 days	20 / 5 / 5 days	5 / 0 / 2 days
Total billed facility days	55	60	11
Facility occupancy at $8,000/day	$440,000	$480,000	$88,000
Location access at $10,000/street day	$0	$50,000	$360,000
Share of shoot days at a qualified NY facility	100%	86%	10%

Facility and location allowances

The $8,000 daily facility rate covers occupancy rent, basic utilities and facility support. It excludes equipment packages, set building, crew labor and overtime, which stay in their own accounts. Prep, hold and strike are rental days, not qualifying photography days. The $10,000 location rate is a property-access allowance, not a city permit fee; permits, street control, police and other location operations stay in account 3600. No facility has been selected or quoted.

Schedule and qualification

All principal photography is assumed in New York. Full Bleecker moves four of its 40 shooting days to a qualified production facility; it does not add days. NY ESD rules require at least 10% of principal photography days at a qualified production facility, on a set built for the production, for budgets over $15M, and at least one full day for independently owned productions of $15M or less. A New York City facility used by a production over $15M must meet the state's Level 2 facility specs (soundproofed, built-in HVAC, permanent grid, 16-foot clear height). Meeting the day count alone does not satisfy every credit test. A script breakdown must confirm the scenes and rental schedule fit.

Recalculation

Insurance is 1.5% of above the line, production and post; bond is 2% of subtotal; contingency is 10% of production, post and other, each rounded to $1,000. No scoring credit, Production Plus or upstate uplift is assumed, and only one credit program may be used.

Still to quote before commitment

Cast, union fringes, department prep and strike labor, choreography, recording and weather allowances are carried as estimates. A line producer replaces placeholders with a script schedule and bids. Program funding windows must be checked before application.
